Out of the Blue

And into the real world with feelings inside and treasures reserved. We leave Barringer with much knowledge. Never forgetting the friends in common. Those friends we'll forever cherish.

The color Blue, to some, signifies sadness to others brightness.

To Barringer Blue Bears it means strength, struggle, success, power, style and most of all survival.

Out of the Blue...

Some of us matured as time went by. We learned many lessons. We've experienced many things that have helped us grow.

Out of the Blue...

As we move along in life we take with us special moments we lived during our years at Barringer High School. Some are good, others may not be as pleasant, but we still carry on.

Out of the Blue...

We entered Barringer starry eyed. Although we had no idea what our future held, we quickly understood we had to get down

There were people depending on us to graduate, and we were determined not to let them down.

Out of the Blue...

Some of the fondest memories in life are the struggles that we all experienced during our years at Barringer High School.

We often reminisce Out of the Blue about the obstacles we faced and which appeared, at times, impossible to overcome.

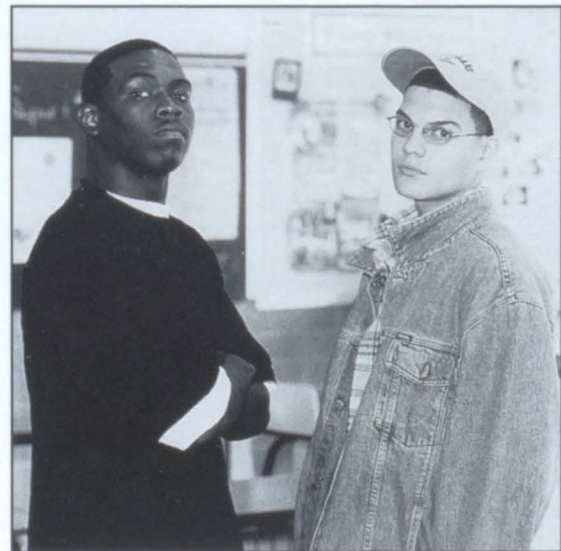

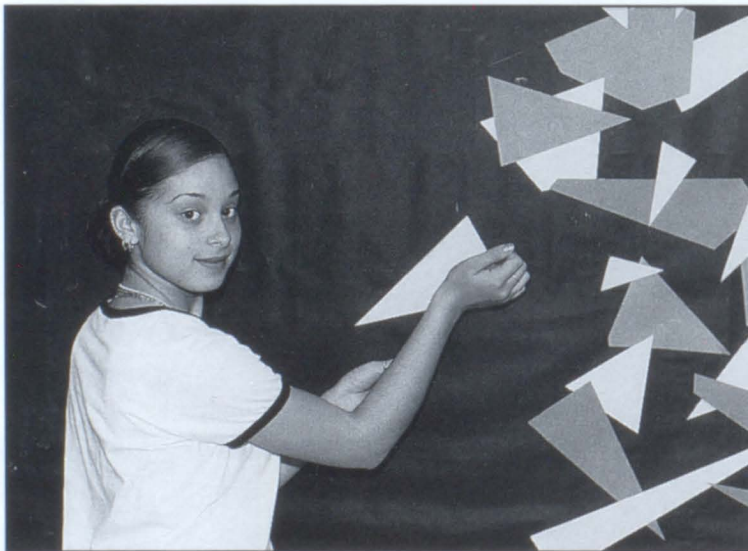

Remember
cramming for an important English
exam, burning the
midnight oil to complete that Science lab, or
finishing that History
homework
assignment just before class? We all
did that at least once
and we all know it.

Out of the Blue...
As we take those
final steps for our diploma, Out of the Blue we reflect on those special individuals who influenced us and
pushed us because
they believed in us.
They helped us
pursue our dream.

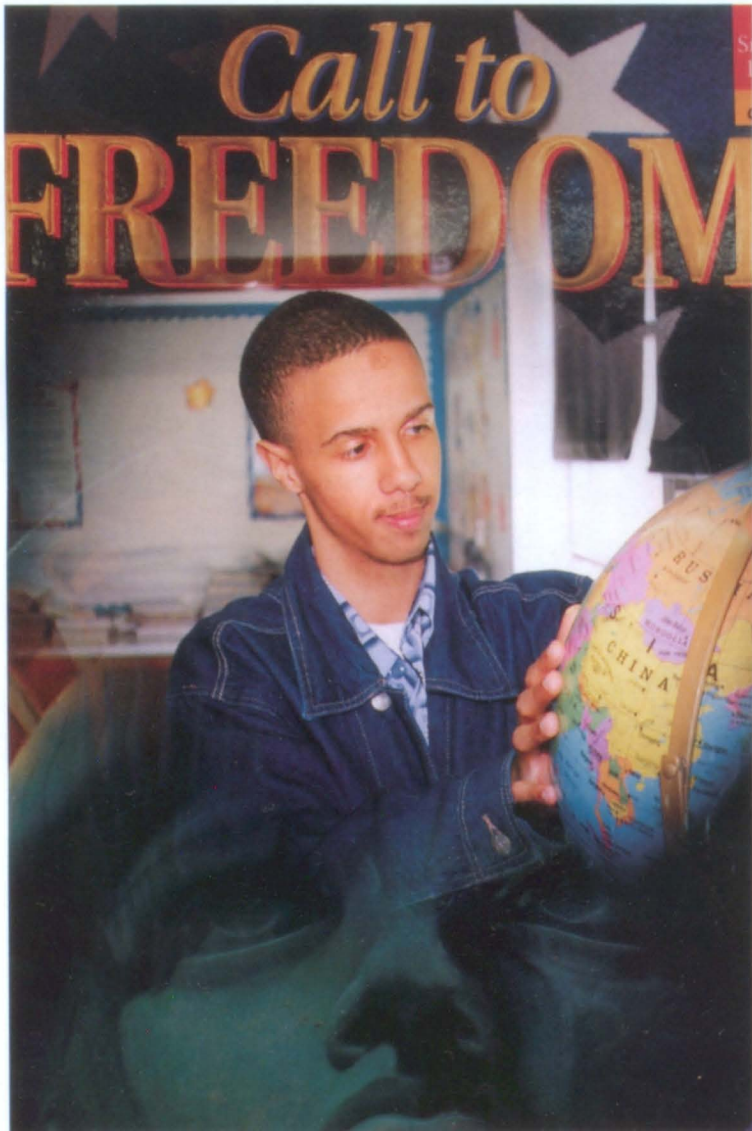

Our mothers, fathers, ministers, teachers and friends will always be a part of our memories.

It seemed like Out of the Blue we matured and realized the opposite sex. The looks, the glances across the classroom, the greetings between classes, the discussions at the lockers. The times we were disappointed because the feelings weren't reciprocal. The times we were overwhelmed because the feelings were the same.

Day after day we dragged our tired bodies to class. Although, at times, we weren't concentrating, we compelled our sleepy minds to listen, as our teachers tirelessly attempted to instill in us knowledge.

Now we're ready to graduate, and it seemed as if Out of Blue we realized that the many hours of homework, the time spent studying for exams and writing essays prepared us for our future.

Senior Prom May 26, 2001

Mayfair Farms. Isn't it beautiful.

There's Mr. Martinez dancing with one of the beautiful graduates.

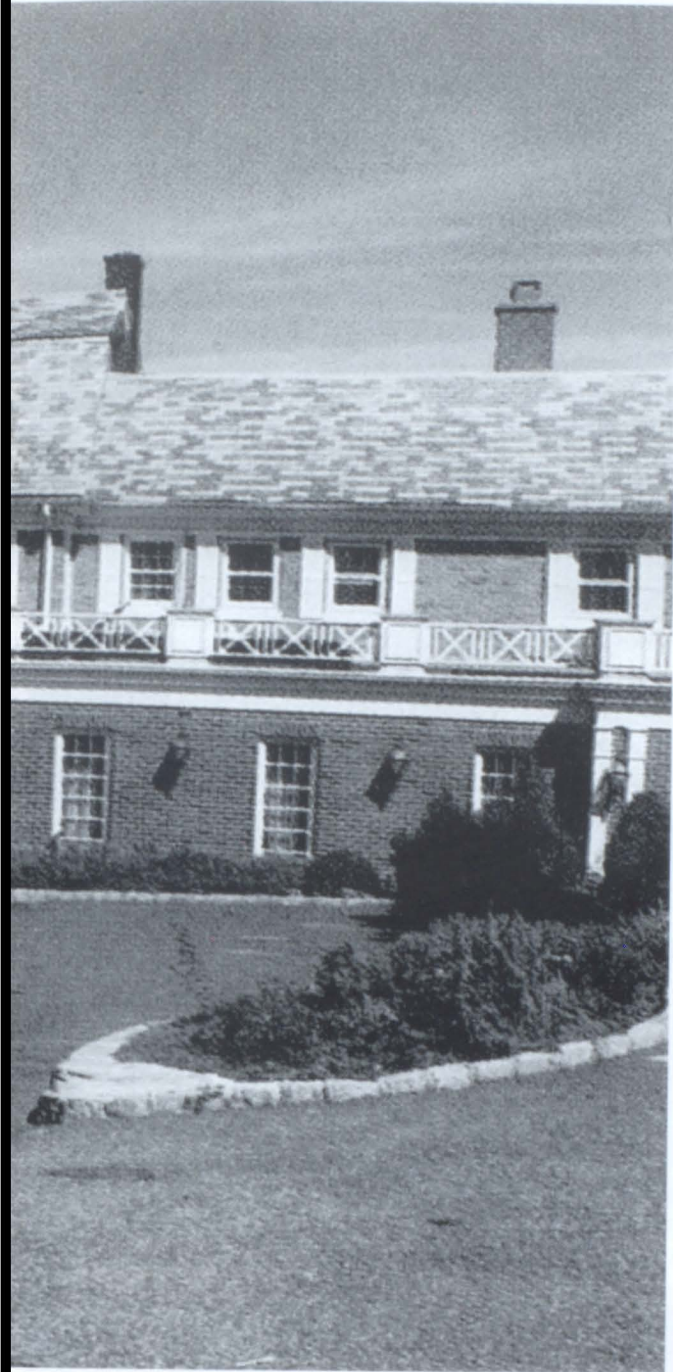

Quadir Booker on his way to the dance floor.

The day of the senior prom will always be remembered. On this majestic night, Barringer seniors danced into paradise. The seniors recalled the times when they were youngsters dreaming of this high school night and now it was reality. The seniors are living their dream this night and celebrating their good times at Barringer High School.

On this special day the ladies come dressed up in beautiful gowns and the guys looking elegant in their tuxedos. Everyone is looking splendid as we arrive at the Mayfair Farms. The music is jamming, the dance floor is crowded, and the people are laughing and having a wonderful time. On this special night each and every person at the prom are not students, they're friends dancing away to a night of treasured and everlasting memories. Memories frozen in time ... forever.

Fruits "R" US

Mrs. Lopez, Nelly and Jose wait for the fruit to be delivered.

Through the sweetness of fruit, the senior class wants to bring a little piece of the country to the concrete jungle of Barringer High School. It was an oddity to see seniors dragging boxes of fruit down the hallways, yet they delivered sweetness through delicious oranges, apples and grapefruit. Members of the Senior Class Committee were determined to have an appetizing fund raiser and decided to proceed with the plan. Wisely, the senior class banked on our sense of taste for their own success. On November 22, 2000, teachers and students initiated a fruit sale for the senior class by distributing fruit and therefore doing something good for everyone, including themselves. Equipped with an arsenal of oranges, apples, and grapefruit, they delivered flavor to all for a small price.

David, Nick and Jennifer busy at work

What happened to those 7 cases of apples? ask Jose, Nick and Rigoberto.

Jose, Erica, Cyril, Roberto, Olvin and even Mrs. Immerso unload the truck.

To The Class of 2001

I would like to congratulate the Class of 2001. You have worked hard to complete the requirements to graduate from Barringer High School. This is an accomplishment you should be proud of — as I am proud of each and every one of you.

A special thanks to the Senior officers and class committee for your never-ending abundance of energy and enthusiasm. Although you may have exhausted me at times, you have kept the class spirit high and enabled all to have a great senior year. I have truly enjoyed being your advisor and working with this class. As you complete this chapter in the book of life — you will begin new ones. Don't be afraid or sad. Go forward not backward. Live life to the fullest but do it wisely. Take all the energy you have and do something constructive with it. Build your life — don't destroy it. Live up to your fullest potential and see how far you can go. Let this book of your life be the #1 Best Seller.

You will always be a part of Barringer High School and the doors will remain open for you to come back and visit. I will look forward to these visits.

When you receive your diploma walk tall and always "believe in yourself" as I have believed in you.

Congratulations and best wishes to you — Graduates of Barringer High School — Class of 2001.

Love,
Mrs. Joy Immerso
Senior Class Advisor

A Last Word From Your Class President

First and foremost I would like to express my deepest gratitude to the administration, faculty and staff of Barringer for guiding us through our high school years.

I would like to acknowledge Mrs. Immerso for being a wonderful class advisor. Thank you for your commitment and endless hours of work to the Class of 2001.

A special thanks goes out to Mrs. Robyn Lopez for always being there to help the Class of 2001. You two women have made our accomplishments and successes possible.

To my fellow graduates ... this is not the end ... this is a new beginning. A journey through life as young adults moving toward adulthood. We must all choose a path. Hopefully, each and everyone of us will choose the right one.

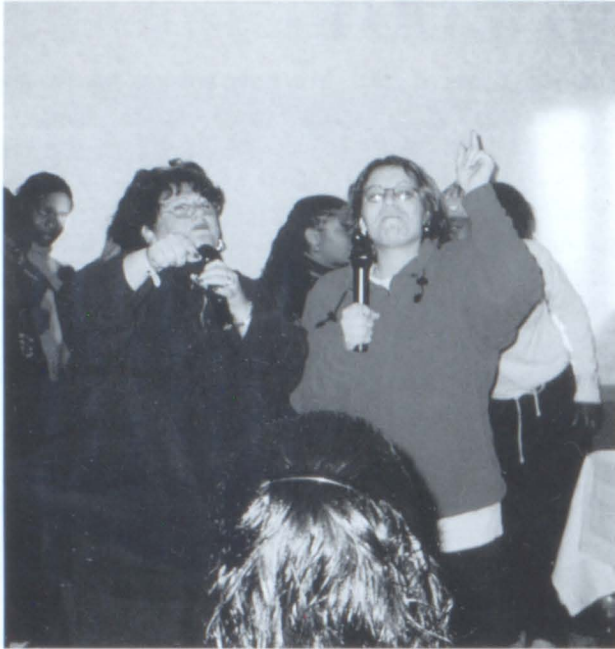

It has been an honor, pleasure and privilege serving as class president. My very best wishes and congratulations to the Class of 2001.

We also got closer to one another. We talked, laughed, joked around and met other people who went on the trip. It was an experience that no one will forget, especially the "class of 2001". The food was good. The available activities that we had on the trip were the following: pool, ice skating, paintball shooting, horseback riding, gym to play sports and pool to play games. All in all it was the most exciting trip of the year for all Barringer seniors who attended.

Senior Class Trip

On a windy Friday afternoon at approximately 1:00 P.M. two busloads full of Barringer seniors were on their way to Mount Airy Lodge Resort in the Poconos to enjoy an exciting weekend of fun and laughter with fellow classmates. The bus ride was "OFF DA' HOOK". The ride was a two-hour party on wheels as classmates joked around, laughed and got to know each other better. We arrived at the resort at about 3:30 in the afternoon. As we entered, we noticed how beautiful the resort was. The group then assembled on the dance hall for a quick introduction when the advisors went over the rules we had to follow while visiting, and the luxuries we would have at our disposal. To our surprise we listened even though we just wanted to say, "YEAH, WHATEVER" and hit the pool. But we controlled ourselves like proper young adults ... for the time being.

As soon as the assembly was over the instructors showed us where our rooms were. The rooms were very big with two queen size beds. Luckily I had won a bet which allowed me to enjoy one bed all to myself for the whole weekend. The food was delicious. There were other schools we shared the excitement with. The weekend passed by quickly, because time flies when you are having fun. Finally on Sunday at 1:00 P.M. we departed back home. The ride was a two hour naptime for some, and for others a time to reflect on what we had just experienced. Good or bad, the experience was a once in a lifetime opportunity. For one weekend the class of 2001, united as one and enjoyed each others company, realizing that judging a book by it's cover, is not always a good idea.

Dedication of Service

Victoria Michaels

Vice-Principal

Born in Brooklyn, to Greek immigrant parents, Ms. Michaels is first generation American. When she entered first grade at P.S. 122 in Astoria, Queens, Greek was the only language she spoke. She was tutored in English three times a week in hour sessions and within three months had mastered the English language.

Graduating from Long Island City High School as Valedictorian, she had near perfect attendance, missing only four days in four years before her doctor forbade her to go to school after falling down a flight of stairs. She was the only girl in her class to take Physics, and one of five to go on to college.

Trained as a professional classical pianist from the age of five to seventeen, she never missed a day of practice. Ms. Michaels was one of nine students accepted to Julliard. She decided not to attend because she wanted to go to school to become a teacher. She attended Queens College, majoring in Elementary Education and Speech. Ms. Michaels was certified to teach English and Speech in grades 7 through 12. New York required a master's degree to teach, so she attended school in New Jersey for her master's degree, with plans to return to New York when she completed her degree. Ms. Michaels was offered a long-term substitute position at South Side High School, now known as Malcolm X Shabazz H.S. She accepted the position knowing that Newark had a good reputation. Her principal was Mr. Landolfi, who was named National Principal of the Year. In 1960, she left to take a full-time position in the Belleville school system. Ms. Michaels then returned to Shabazz after being promised a full-time position once she was certified. She had taught many well-known people such as, Newark Schools Superintendent, Ms. Bolden and Donald Yee, Computer Science and Mathematics genius.

In 1963, Ms. Michaels was married. She had a daughter in 1964. She took a leave of absence because she wanted to return to work in an academic high school. In 1965, Barringer High School had an opening in English and Ms. Michaels joined the staff. She was the Athenaeum Advisor in 1968 and 1969, of which she is very proud. She taught English honors having nine of the top ten students in her class. She was always proud of her students, especially the underprivileged who tried their best. She says, "This profession has provided me with the opportunity to meet some of the greatest people in the world, my students, and to be able to do for them."

She continued to work as an English teacher from 1956-1972. She became chairperson of the English department from 1972-1975, Vice-Principal in 1975 and scheduling Vice-Principal since 1988.

Having some of the greatest teachers influencing her life made her decision to go into the field very easy. She wanted to give back to her students that what was given to her by her teachers. "It's a challenge to be a teacher. To teach a child who cannot read to read or who cannot write to write. It is also very rewarding. I have learned so much from my students."

One of her favorite quotes is, "The two most important things you can give your children are roots and wings." Her belief is that children today don't have the "roots" or the foundation that they need. They have "wings" and are using them, but they are flying all over the place, "winging it," as the expression goes, without focus or direction. Children need guidance from someone other than their peers to develop the "roots" they lack.

The most influential people in her life were her parents. They came from Cyprus with no high school education and pushed her to become the "best." They told her she was bright, they encouraged her. They always told her she could do it. It was highly unusual for a woman of her generation to go to college and for this she is very appreciative.

Some of the best memories she will take with her are the graduations. Every year, since 1965, except one, Ms. Michaels has attended every graduation. She is always excited and delighted to see the young people she knew as freshmen achieve their goal.

Ms. Michaels leaves Barringer with this reminder to her colleagues, "It doesn't matter what you've taught them, but what they've learned." To the class of 2001, "Believe in yourself!"

Ms. Michaels has two children, a daughter Michelle, an attorney, and a son, Michael. Michael works for the Newark School Systems and hopes to follow in his mother's footsteps.

The Class of 2001 and the advisors, Mrs. Joy Immerso and Ms. Sonya Rolle, the Athenaeum Staff and Mr. Di Gerlando wish you a happy, healthy retirement. Thank you for all the dedicated years of service you have given to the students of Barringer High School.

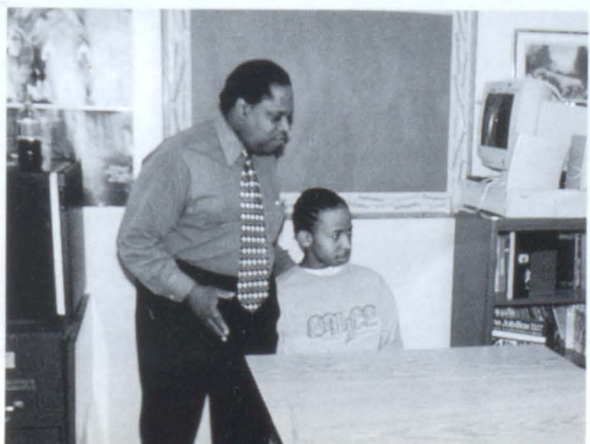

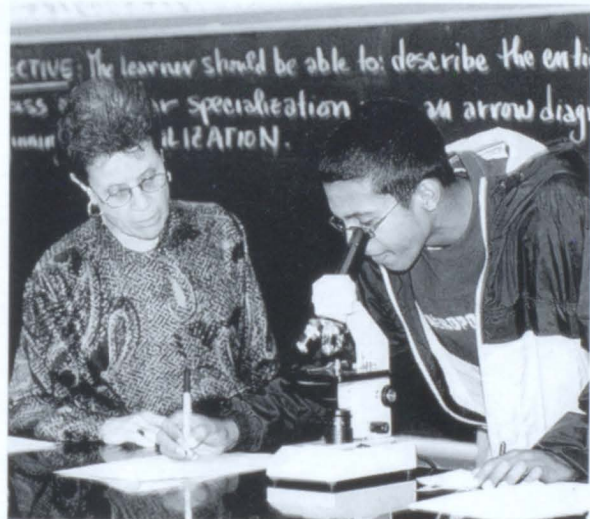

Mr. Robert D'Aiello

In Memoriam

Mr. D'Aiello known at Barringer as "The Hobbit Man" because of his love for author, J.R.R. Tolkien, passed away in November of this school year. The Barringer family mourns his death yet celebrates his life. We celebrate the twenty-nine years of his dedication to the education of the students at Barringer High School.

Mr. D'Aiello sparked the flame of knowledge in each of his students. Mr. D'Aiello was once the advisor to the Acropolis News, an English teacher and friend. He introduced students to the wonders of literature through all of his talents. If a book he assigned for reading was not in the curriculum, he even supplied his students with a copy. Mr. D'Aiello was also a mechanic and an outdoorsman, who stimulated his student's interests by "infusing" fantastic tales into the curriculum. Mr. D'Aiello's teaching is his legacy. It burns brightly in Barringer's students like the fervor that enlivened his English classes. We, at Barringer High School, bury our sadness and rejoice that we had the chance to have met such an educator.

The Latinos United Club

Hispanics are a growing minority in this nation. The Latinos United Club was founded to unite the hispanics of Barringer and instill within them the strength, pride, and wisdom needed to become a success in life. This club does its best to expose all Barringer students to the hispanic culture. They achieve this purpose by hosting and organizing culture-related activities like this year's Hispanic Heritage Day. Latinos United also helps students, who are new to the United States. In addition, Latinos United works in cooperation with other clubs, teaching members that together they can make a difference. This year's accomplishments are Hispanic Heritage Day, the Puerto Rican month luncheon, and the International Food Festival that celebrates Dominican Independence Day.

This is when it became independent from the joint relationship it had with the yearbook and annual school publications of the 1800's. The goal of the newspaper is to inform the public with quality writing, and at the same time educate our readers about events that take place in our school surroundings.

Out of the blue

We have spent four years of our lives in our own little world. It is now time to meet the real challenge of life, and to experience new feelings and thoughts like never before. In Barringer we were the influential class of achievers. Now we must present our talents and skills in the real world, each of us taking our own individual path in life. Yet we will always remember and keep the friendships made. Someday we will come together, each individual recalling a memory and of the difference they made in this world. Out of the blue we will stand as individuals, but unite in an effort to change humanity's ways.

Out of the blue

We depart from the Blue; only to enter a colorful outside environment. We will take with us our past success, as we will make great strides in all aspects of humankind. The strength taught to us, will lie within us, for it defines our personalities. Our overwhelming sense of pride will carry the blue bear spirit forever. Struggles have shaped our being and in life we will face these with admiration. Each of us has different styles and powers, which have made this a unique class. Nevertheless, we have learned and developed all these characteristics for our survival here in Barringer and out of the Blue.
